EXPOCAMPO FRUIT

A quality and traditional company

In the heart of Ecuador, our company is born from a deep connection with the land and its fruits. We are dedicated to selecting, processing, and exporting agricultural products of the highest quality, keeping alive the traditions that define us.

We carefully select and manage fruits according to quality, sustainability, and traceability standards. We work with farmers committed to agricultural development and respect for the land.

TOGETHER WE CULTIVATE QUALITY AND SUSTAINABILITY

"We guarantee the production, marketing, and continuous supply of cocoa and other fruits with sustainability and traceability standards through our network of agricultural fields.

ExpoCampo Fruit promotes a responsible supply chain: we support producers to ensure traceability and deliver fine-flavored cocoa and other products such as coffee, corn, passion fruit, and pepper to customers who value quality and transparency. We also have certifications, asset sustainability projects, and ongoing training in best practices."

We export our products to the most demanding markets in the world:
USA, the European Union, Russia, China, and the United Arab Emirates.

WE HAVE STRONG RELATIONSHIPS WITH FARMERS ACROSS THE COUNTRY.

Our company's strength lies in its direct dealings with diverse producers, along with competitive prices and a focus on the quality of our exported products. We are focused on building long-term relationships with integrity, commitment, and trust.

Mission

To be the link between Ecuador's agricultural wealth and global markets, through the marketing and export of agricultural products.

Vision

To be recognized globally as a leading company in the export of Ecuadorian agricultural products, distinguished by its excellence and commitment to the country's rural development.

Competitive Advantage

We work in collaboration with local farmers and merchants, promoting sustainable, responsible, and fair practices that foster the development of rural communities.

Ecuadorian COCOA CCN51

Discover the depth of our high-quality cocoa beans, perfect for the finest chocolate makers. Characterized by complex notes and superior quality for a truly gourmet experience. Key Features:

Productivity

It is one of the most productive varieties in the world, with significantly higher yields than Cacao Nacional.

Resistance

It is tolerant to diseases such as witch's broom and monilia, reducing losses for farmers.

Composition and Use

Its high cocoa butter content gives it higher yields in the factory. It is primarily used in large-scale chocolate production and for markets that value quantity and consistency.

Fine Flavor & Industrial Excellence OUR PREMIER COCOA SELECTION

By choosing our CCN-51, you secure a reliable source of high-quality cocoa beans designed for the demands of modern industry. We manage the supply chain from our certified farms to your factory door, guaranteeing volume, consistency, and adherence to all international quality and export standards.

For manufacturers seeking reliable quality, high yields, and an exceptional return on investment.

Partner with us for the efficiency, quality, and scale that only premium CCN-51 cocoa can deliver.
